

LOCAL BREVITIES.

All the stores in Tempe are closed on Sunday.

California apples are worth 5 cents a piece at the fruit stands.

Corporal punishment arguments can be heard in almost every direction the last few days.

The water in the river is only about two feet deep at the ford just below the bridge at Tempe.

The asylum grounds present a beautiful appearance, and do credit to the energies of the present management.

W. L. Whippley delightedly writes from San Francisco that he is the father of a fine girl, who arrived December 15.

Some of the lively stables were quite well patronized yesterday by the colored soldiers who are here as witnesses before the United States Court.

The work of unloading the two carloads of iron piping for the Keating hydraulic works, is progressing. J. M. Hutton will load his big team and start for Humboldt today.

Parties in from the mountains west of here say that deer are plentiful. It is supposed the snow in the mountains has caused the animals to come down to a warm climate for the winter.

Two wagon loads of potatoes were brought down from Peeples Valley in Yavapai county yesterday. In the valleys of Northern Arizona is raised the finest Irish potatoes in the world and Maricopa county takes the lead in sweet potatoes.

L. M. Bates, manager of the Bates & Co. store at Haqua Hala, is in the city from St. Louis. Mr. Bates was traveling in the interest of the Colton, California, Fruit Packing Company, and has been east, where he had good success selling California fruit. He will go from here to Haqua Hala via Sentinel.

About ten men from Highland and Hiawatha, Kas., arrived at Tempe Sunday for the purpose of settling in the Salt River Valley. This shows the fame of the delightful climate of Arizona is spreading all over the country and that many people are improving the opportunity of securing a good home where not only grains of all kinds can be raised in abundance, but as fine fruit as the world can produce.

A DREADFUL WEAPON.

With Which Old "Tamale" Was Assaulted Saturday Night.

Teodoro Rosco, Mexican, has been arrested and lodged in jail.

Late Saturday evening he went into the back room of Thalheimer's saloon and finding the old Mexican known as "Tamale" there alone, demanded his money, at the same time drawing a weapon of the stilleto type and holding it at Tamale's breast. Tamale grabbed the weapon with both hands and called loudly for help.

Constable Bradberry, hearing the cry, rushed into the room and arrested Rosco. A search was instituted for the weapon, but it had disappeared.

Rosco carried a harmless looking cane in his hand made out of a piece of fishing pole, but during the search for the knife, Rosco was supposed to have used the officer took the cane and, pulling on the handle, discovered a dagger or stilleto concealed therein, which, judging by the crude workmanship displayed in its makeup, was a homemade article.

It was of three-eighths inch square steel, eighteen inches long and tapered gradually from the handle, which was of horn, to a point as sharp as a needle. Each of the four corners were beveled to within an inch of the point by chipping into the steel and turning it slightly back, giving it the appearance of saw teeth.

Tamale's hands were fearfully lacerated during the struggle, one of his fingers being almost severed from his hand.

Rosco will be arraigned today for assault to murder.

DYNAMITE SHELLS.

Successfully Fired by Means of an Ordinary Cannon.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., December 21.—Dr. Justin succeeded yesterday in making a successful test of his shell for firing dynamite from an ordinary cannon.

The range was about 800 yards. The first shell contained one and one-half pounds of dynamite and the cannon was loaded with thirty pounds of powder. The shell struck the target, a great wall of rock, exploding there with great violence. Two more shells, fired under similar conditions, were equally successful.
